In accordance with the Article 104 of the June 15, 1994 Decree, travel agency terms and conditions for customers must include the following conditions (see supplementary general conditions) stemming from the Articles 95-105 of the June 15, 1994 Decree # 94-940. This Decree stems from the Article 31 of the Act # 92-645 that determines the conditions of activities related to planning and selling travels. The purchase of travel packages included in this website implies the customer's complete agreement with both general and supplementary conditions.

The France Intense website aims to inform the customer, about the content of our travel packages, the booking, fares and payment, cancellations or changes. It gives to the customer the possibility to book on line and to obtain information about most availability. As far as possible, the information presented on this website is regularly updated. France Intense terms and conditions are valid starting on June 1, 2003. Your contract complies with the terms and conditions in force on the day you book your trip. The terms and conditions apply to all items presented on France Intense website. The purchase of travel packages implies the customer's complete agreement with both general and supplementary conditions. The information and photos presented on this website do not have a contractual value; prices may slightly vary throughout the year without notice.

1. Booking.

According to the tours, different deposit amounts are required for us to make the reservation and hold it on definite basis. The customer can either send a check for the balance due or pay by credit card Visa or MasterCard (secured online payment). Your booking will be confirmed by email with your personal reference number and with a voucher you will show at the beginning of your tour. For day tours, 100% of the total amount will be charged on your credit card. For other tours you will be charged on the base of the lowest price presented. A readjustment will be operated subsequently according to the final number of people you confirm for the tour. Please contact us if you have any question about your booking.

2. Price.

Each package description on this website specifies the services included in the price. Our prices are in Euros and per person. Unless otherwise specified, the price never includes the following: vaccination cost, insurance, optional tours, drinks, tips, and personal expenses. The contract price only includes the services described in the tour package. Some prices are presented on the basis of 2 to 8 people. A readjustment will be operated subsequently according to the final number of people you confirm for the tour. Price quotations are subject to change without notice. You will be charged in Euro at the conversion's rate applicable on the date of your booking.

3. Payment.

The bill is sent to the customer immediately after the booking to the email address you mention in the booking form. The balance cost will be paid at the latest 35 days prior to the first day of the tour. If you send a check, you must also sign and send the final estimate (that is the bill). If the final balance is not received on time, France Intense reserves the right to treat the booking as cancelled by you. If you book the tour within 35 days prior to the beginning of the tour, the full amount must be paid when the booking is confirmed. If this total payment together with a signed booking form is not received, the booking will not be considered as definite.

- It is possible to extend your stay or leave early, "only if it is specified when booking the trip". Besides a fee for supplementary services, an additional fee can be charged notably due to a change of dates in hotels. Travel insurance purchased by the customer is due from the day the reservation is signed, and it must be paid then. France Intense does not send any acknowledgement of receipt.

4. Transportation.
